Corporation Guiding Principles 2020

1. Introduction

- 1.1 These Guiding Principles (the Principles) outline the standard of behaviour and conduct expected of all Corporation Members. The Corporation is accountable for significant public funding and for providing key educational services to its community. The Code of Good Governance for English Colleges and good practice indicates that Members should therefore act within agreed standards of behaviour and conduct, which are clearly expressed and published.
- 1.2 The Principles contain essential references to counter-fraud and anti-bribery legislation, the equality duty, the Seven Principles of Public Life (the 'Nolan principles') and the core values of College governance, as set out in the Code of Governance for English Colleges (the Code). Whilst the Code relates more generally to Corporation activity and provides higher level statements of principle, these Principles:
  - i. Aim to promote behaviours ensuring effective, well informed and accountable corporate governance. Although Members are not company directors or charitable trustees, they undertake similar roles and therefore the Principles include some of the same expectations set out in company and charity law.
  - ii. Describe the standards of behaviour governing relationships between Members and the Principal / Chief Executive of North Warwickshire and South Leicestershire College (the College).
- 1.3 The Principles are not intended to be a definitive or authoritative statement of the law or good practice. If a Member is in doubt about any of the Principles, the Clerk to the Corporation should be consulted.
- 1.4 By accepting appointment to the Corporation, each Member has agreed to accept the Principles.
- 1.5 Co-opted members are also expected to comply with the Principles and by accepting appointment, agree to abide by the Principles.

Appendix 2

The Seven Principles of Public Life (Second Report of the Nolan Committee on Standards in Public Life, May 1996)

1. Selflessness

Holders of public office should take decisions solely in terms of the public interest. They should not do so in order to gain financial or other benefit for themselves, their family or their friends.

2. Integrity

Holders of public office should not place themselves under any financial or other obligation to outside individuals or organisations which might influence them in the performance of their official duties.

3. Objectivity

In carrying out public business, including making public appointments, awarding contracts or recommending individuals for rewards or benefits, holders of public office should make choices on merit.

4. Accountability

Holders of public office are accountable for their decisions and actions in public and must submit themselves to whatever scrutiny is appropriate for their office.

5. Openness

Holders of public office should be as open as possible about all the decisions and actions that they take. They should give reasons for their decisions and restrict information only when the wider public interest demands.

6. Honesty

Holders of public office have a duty to declare any private interests relating to their public duties and take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way which protects the public interest.

7. Leadership

Holders of public office should promote and support these principles by leadership and example.
